Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song to the Eternal. They said: I will sing to the Eternal, for God has triumphed gloriously; Horse and driver the Eternal has hurled into the sea.

The Eternal is my strength and might; God is become my deliverance. This is my God and I will enshrine God; The God of my ancestors, and I will exalt the Eternal.

The Eternal, the Warrior—Eternal one is God’s name!

Pharaoh’s chariots and his army God has cast into the sea; And the pick of his officers Are drowned in the Sea of Reeds.

The deeps covered them; They went down into the depths like a stone.

Your right hand, Eternal One, glorious in power, Your right hand, Eternal One, shatters the foe!

In Your great triumph You break Your opponents; You send forth Your fury, it consumes them like straw.

At the blast of Your nostrils the waters piled up, The floods stood straight like a wall; The deeps froze in the heart of the sea.

The foe said, “I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; My desire shall have its fill of them. I will bare my sword—My hand shall subdue them.”

You made Your wind blow, the sea covered them; They sank like lead in the majestic waters.

Who is like You, Eternal One, among the celestials; Who is like You, majestic in holiness, Awesome in splendor, working wonders!
Deborah, wife of Lapidoth, a woman, was a prophet; at that time, she was the leader of Israel. She used to sit under Deborah’s Palm, between Ramah and Beth El in the hill country of Ephraim, when the people of Israel came to her for decisions. So she sent for Barak son of Abinoam of Kedesh [in the territory] of Naphtali and said to him, “The Eternal, the God of Israel, commands you to draw up at Mount Tabor; take with you ten thousand men from the tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun. Then I will draw Sisera—Jabin’s army commander—with his chariots and troops, to the Wadi Kishon, and I will hand him over to you.” Barak answered, “I will go only if you come with me; if you don’t, I won’t go either.”
